Cor. First and Church Streets

PRINCE ALBERT, SASK.

The train was an hour and a half late Saturday and Tuesday evenings.

Mr. Geo. M. Sutherland returned to town yesterday, after some three months rustication on the north side of the river.

Posters will be issued this week by the Health Inspector warning all parties to have their premises cleaned up by the 15th of June.

J. MacArthur, private banker, received a large and handsome new safe by Saturday's train, having found the old one rather small for his increasing business.

The branch of the Imperial bank lately established here, have evidently come to stay. Last week they brought in a state weighing something in the neighborhood of 5,000 pounds, and had it placed in their office.

C. O. Davidson, and family arrived here on Saturday evening from Moosemin. Mr. Davidson comes to take charge of the station here in the place of Mr. Buchanan who has returned to his old situation at Moosemin.

All the men employed in Moore & Masdonald's lumber camps got back to town yesterday, having got through with the season's cutting. On the opening of navigation, work will be resumed on the drives, and the logs got down to the mill as early as possible. A big season's cutting is expected.

That excellent journal, the Dominion Illustrated, is steadily improving under its present energetic management, and is as steadily growing in public favor. The enlargement to 24 pages weekly affords opportunity for great improvement to its literary contents, the contributions to which now include many well known writers. Historic sketches, healthy fiction, crisp editorials on current topics, bright correspondence from London, New York, Toronto and other cities, sports and pastimes, humorous sketches, etc., make up with the numerous illustrations, dealing chiefly with Canadian scenes, events and personages, a charming journal for Canadian readers and a welcome weekly visitor in every home. The prize competition which the publishers have so successfully inaugurated is not an effort to work off some bogus silverware but a straightforward agreement made in good faith with their subscribers. The result, from the nature of the competition, must be beneficial to the readers, and the publishers' only hope of adequate return is in an enlarged and permanent circulation, which was their object at the outset. On receipt of 12 cents in stamps they (the Sabiston Litho. and Pub. Co., Montreal) will forward to any address a sample copy of the journal with full particulars of the competition.

Word has been received here from Devil's Lake of the death of an Indian hunter. It appears the Indian and a younger brother got on the trail of a moose, which they followed till about dusk, when the man told the boy to make out a fire, while he would follow up the tracks a little further. The boy done as told, and after waiting two nights and a day, concluded his brother had gone home and started for home himself. On arriving there he found his brother had not got there. Searching parties were immediately formed, but owing to mismanagement it was some days before the unfortunate was discovered. When found, the body was cold, but not frozen, showing plainly that the poor fellow had died but a short time before. From indications surrounding the spot where the body was found, it appears he followed the tracks of the moose till he suddenly came on the nest of a bear, which must have attacked him, as his head, body and limbs were dreadfully lacerated by the ferocious animal. The Indian, it seems, had fired a couple of shots at the bear severely wounding him, judging from the marks of blood around the spot where a tussle for life took place. The bear must have dragged the man some distance, as a bloody trail showed plainly his track as he crawled back to the place where the body was found, and where he had managed to light a fire. There is no doubt that had the searching parties followed up the men's tracks, as they should have done, he would have been found alive and his life probably saved.

The Favorites Win.

OXFORD DEFEATS CAMBRIDGE IN THE GREAT BOAT RACE.

As has been the case for nearly half a century, all the sporting people of London and many thousands of inhabitants of both city and country turned out to witness the great aquatic event of the year, the boat race between the university crews of Oxford and Cambridge.

The rival eights were started successfully at 11:00 a.m., sharp. Cambridge at first got away with the lead, pulling a shorter, smarter, somewhat quicker, more catchy stroke than Oxford, and at the Clasper boat house, the Cambridge boat was ahead. Then Oxford bent to her work, pulling the long, dragging, powerful stroke peculiar to the oarsmen of that university. This stroke soon told and Oxford was leading slightly at the Craven cottage, six furlongs from the start. At the Crabtree, one mile and three furlongs from the start, Oxford had the lead by a length. Nearing Hammersmith bridge, one mile and six furlongs from the start, Cambridge again made a magnificent spurt, pulling finely, strongly together, and passed under that bridge a quarter of a length ahead, amid a scene of tremendous excitement. Their time to this point was 8 minutes, 58 seconds. Cambridge's gallant spurt, which resulted in the fact that the light blues were first under Hammersmith bridge, according to tradition, should have landed their boat first over the winning line.

Oxford, however, did not lose heart, but bent all the more doggedly to their work, tugging valiantly, guttily at their oars and pulling a splendid move on their boat. At the Doves, two miles from the start, Oxford led slightly, Cambridge still sticking to her work in magnificent style in spite of the creeping up of their dark blue opponents.

At the oil mills, the two boats were again level with each other and the excitement grew intense. A determined plucky struggle took place as the racing eights passed Chiswell, about two and one eighth miles from the start, the tremendous cheering from the river sides causing each man in those two almost living boats, as it seemed, as if they were almost lifted out of the water, by the bending oars in the grasp of their wonderful crews to strain every nerve to win. Going towards Crayke beach, the boats struck into smoother water, which assisted the lighter men in the Cambridge boat, and they forged ahead, eventually leading Oxford by a quarter of a length. The struggle in the last quarter of a mile of the course will be remembered long in the aquatic world. It was simply magnificent. Oxford had all the work she could do out of her for as the boats rounded the Barnes bend of the river, Cambridge was rowing pluckily and with plenty of strength, but Oxford passed over the line first by a quarter of a length, winning the grandest race rowed on the river Thames in many years. Oxford's time was 22 minutes. The betting was nominally 3 to 1 on Oxford. The race is generally conceded to have been a most interesting and exciting one, and the twenty-fifth victory for Oxford is looked upon as being, if not among the most brilliant of the university's triumphs, is certainly entitled to honorable mention for the bulldog tenacity with which victor and vanquished alike worked their way to the finish of a most successful contest.

THE BY-LAW.

We bespeak a careful consideration for the Debenture By Law published in another column. The demand of a large section of taxpayers has been attended to. The Council has caused the necessary steps to be taken and an opportunity will soon be given those interested to say yea or nay to the wisdom of floating bonds for public improvements. It is an important move and worthy of serious attention. We believe the By Law will carry, but the active originators of the step should see that liberal information is supplied respecting the nature of improvements contemplated and the methods likely to be adopted in carrying them out. Prince Albert citizens will continue to show the same energy which has for years distinguished the settlement. The taxpayer will demonstrate in a practical way his faith in the future of our town and country. They fully realize that such action is necessary if outside attention is to be attracted to the value of our position, backed up by the great material wealth of the surrounding country.

OUR SCHOOL.

The Board of Trustees have at last made a move, and the ratepayers are now asked to assemble and fill a vacancy which should have been attended to weeks ago. While school affairs may be running to the satisfaction of the Board, many interested ratepayers are holding a decidedly opposite view. It is unfortunate, but none the less true, that a feeling at present exists in the mind of many a taxpayer, that the management of our schools is not as satisfactory as it should be, results are not what the excellent accommodation and expensive staff of teachers provided most justly demand, and that a searching investigation of the methods adopted would disclose some peculiar actions on the part of a majority of the Board. Our head teachers are men of well known ability. The fault can hardly be theirs. Recent events point strongly to the justice of a frequently expressed opinion, that certain members of the trustees are not giving that unselfish attention to matters coming under their control which the importance of their position demands; herein perhaps it is to be found the reasons which will account for the dead and alive state into which our once popular school has fallen. The situation is certainly serious, and many parents are already so impressed. Ratepayers should now be alive to the importance of securing a capable and energetic man to fill the vacancy caused by Mayor Johnson's resignation. The educational facilities of the town have always ranked high and have ever been held out as a particular inducement for people to locate in our midst. Interest in its further development should not be allowed to lapse, and a well attended meeting on the 27th inst., will go far towards checking an evil.

Now that the Dominion is safe, let us sit down beside our provincial legislators. Big things mind themselves better for the fact that smaller things are well looked after.

Great Britain imported from Canada in 1890 products to the value of about $60,000,000; but her imports from Australia were worth $145,000,000, and those from the East Indies were worth $205,000,000. If we were true to our opportunities, our trade with Great Britain might be quadrupled.

We understand that since the election our Liberal friends have been weekly receiving some interesting statements from the northern, western and southern parts of the District. Stay with them gentlemen, they are simply the after effects of having had a badly managed central committee.

We notice in several of the Territorial papers that merchants in the different towns are unanimously adopting the early closing movement, and we feel quite satisfied that the merchants of Prince Albert—who are noted for their liberality—will follow suit. For our part, we could never see any gain in keeping stores open, unless on special occasions, later than seven o'clock in the evening.

According to a summary made by the Boston Journal of the report of the Massachusetts Bureau of the Statistics of Labor, there are to-day in the State of Massachusetts 1,461 abandoned farms, 722 with buildings and 689 without buildings, with a total acreage of 126,509 1/4 and an assessed value of $1,076,328. This abandoned acreage is 3.45 per cent. of aggregate acreage of farms in the State.

The Kingston (Jamaica) News Letter has a two column interview with the senior member of the firm of Middleton & Co., who is asked the question: "Do you think there is any probability of a large trade being done with the Canadian Dominion?" "Yes; I think Canada has an important future before it both in the West Indies and elsewhere. One thing that will tend greatly to extend the fields of Canadian industry and commerce is the class of men who represent Canadian firms. They are business men of a superior type, and far above the average of the ordinary class of drummer in intelligence and gentlemanly bearing. They are a fine body of men, with sterling honesty depicted on their faces. You feel that when they give you a quotation and show you the samples, the order given will be up to the specified standard.—Toronto Empire.

Allen's Lung Balsam was introduced to the public after his merits for the positive cure of such diseases had been fully tested. It excites expectoration and causes the Lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; changes the secretions and purifies the blood; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect that it is warranted to break up the most distressing cough in a few hours' time, if not of too long standing. It contains no opium in any form and is warranted to be perfectly harmless to the most delicate child. There is no real necessity for so many deaths by consumption when Allen's Lung Balsam will prevent it if only taken in time. For Cough, Croup, and all diseases of the Lungs, ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM is the Great Modern Remedy. For Croup and Whooping Cough it is almost a specific. It is an old standard remedy, and sold universally at 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle. The 25-cent bottles are put out to answer the constant call for a Good and Low-Priced COUGH CURE. If you have not tried the Balsam, call for a 25-cent bottle to test it.

Quebec, March 19.—Wm. Stoyles, the twenty-fourth victim of the worsted mills disaster, died to-day. Death was a welcome relief from terrible sufferings. The deceased's father was killed at the time of the accident.

Bervie, Ont., March 19.—While making a seizure on the farm of George Oustrum near here to-day bailiff Alexander Campbell, of Kincardine, was shot in the breast and back by Oustrum. Campbell's injuries are probably fatal.

Ottawa, March 19.—The supreme court adjourned until the 5th of March.

Toronto, March 19.—A bill to consolidate the debt of the town of Port Arthur was introduced into the Legislature to-day.

London, March 19.—A Copenhagen dispatch says that Dr. Nansen has received numerous applications from would-be volunteers in Great Britain and other countries who wish to join his arctic expedition. As the crew will include only eight men there is little room for volunteers.

A Rome dispatch says that Premier Rudini has tendered the thanks of the government to Lord Dufferin for the gallant service done by the crews of the British ironclads in rescuing the survivors of the Utopia disaster at Gibraltar. It is now claimed that the Utopia was not properly steered on entering the bay, and that with good management the collision would have been averted. Many bodies were recovered to-day from the wreck, including those of a husband, wife and child, clasped together, as they appear to have gone down.

Captain McKeague of the Utopia has been arrested at Gibraltar on the charge of wrongful acts, improper conduct, negligence and mismanagement in the control of his steamer before and at the time of the disaster.

Montreal, March 19.—The Italian residents of this city met last evening and passed resolutions denouncing the killing of eleven of their countrymen in New Orleans, declaring there was no example of similar cruelty in the annals of civilized nations, and expressing a hope that the Government of the United States would take energetic efforts to punish the authors of the crime and render justice to families of the victims.

London, March 19.—The negotiations between Austria and Germany on the subject of a commercial treaty have reached a critical stage. The question is whether Germany will agree to grant preferential duties on Austro-Hungarian grain and cattle as against other nations, Russia, being the nation chiefly meant. Hungary insists upon the concession, which Germany is hardly prepared to make, as being of too obviously an unfriendly nature towards Russia.

Lord Hartington has accepted the chairmanship of the royal commission on labor.

On an appeal presented by the colony of Victoria, Australia, the privy council in the judicial committee to-day confirmed the right of the government of the colony to prevent the landing in Victoria of Chinese immigration.

Washington, March 19.—Secretary Blaine said to-night that he knew nothing whatever about the published reports that the United States intended to institute retaliatory proceedings against Germany, in case that country refused to admit American pork. No pronouncements, he said, looking to exclusion of German imports had been issued. Private Secretary Halford also said he knew nothing about the President contemplating such retaliatory proceedings.

Winnipeg, March 20.—It is expected by the government that the session will last about three weeks longer.

No stops have been taken towards the preparation of the voters' lists for Manitoba and Winnipeg South.

The C. P. R. Pacific express arrived last evening in two sections. There was a large party of British, Canadian and European immigrants on board destined for various points in the country.

At the Hudson Bay Company's March sale at London, Eng., mink brought 25 per cent higher than last March; otter 15; fisher, 10; silver fox, 45; cross fox, 20; skunks, 20; beaver, lynx and red fox were unaltered; martin was 5 per cent lower than last March; muskrat, 15; wolf, 10; and wolverine 25. Bismarck, N.D., March 19.—Hon. Judson Lamour, chairman of the State Republican committee asserts that there is a gigantic conspiracy to turn North Dakota over to the Democrats. Lamour says the enterprise has financial backing in the whiskey ring of St. Paul and Chicago and the liquor element of North Dakota. He further says the fund was used to some extent in an effort to defeat Republican candidates. The conspiracy was entered into by the National Democratic committee and certain Republican candidates.

Washington, March 22.—Secretary Blaine has not yet received any reply from Governor Nicholls of Louisiana in response to his official communication in regard to the killing of the Italians in New Orleans.

London, Ont., March 21.—While driving in this city this evening Wesley Warner, a prominent farmer of London township, and his two daughters were struck by a Canadian Pacific passenger train and instantly killed.

THE WHEELBARROW TEST.

Three or four of us on the car were talking about Gen. Sherman's death and, as might be expected, one of the group modestly admitted that he was with the lamented general on his famous march to the sea. There was a woman in the seat ahead, surrounded by bundles and baskets, and evidently going somewhere on a visit. The war talk soon stirred her up, and she turned to the veteran and queried:

"Were you right in a battle?"
"Yes'm."
"Dead men all around?"
"Yes'm."
"Wounded crying for water?"
"Yes'm."
"Bombshells and cannon balls falling around you like hail?"
"Yes'm."
"And you didn't run?"
"No'm, I should hope not," he modestly replied.
"Stood right there and never got scared, eh?"
"Yes'm."

"Well, now, I don't believe it!" she bluntly exclaimed. "It ain't human nature. It ain't accordin' to things."

"I hope you do not doubt my word, madam."

"Yes, I do," she sharply replied. "I don't believe you have got any more nerve than my Sam has, and Sam can't stand the test."

"Then you have a test?"

"Yes, I have. You just get off at Scottdale, where I am going to step. There'll be a wheelbarrow somewhere around there, and you just stand off about 30 feet and let me bear down on you with it. If you don't jump or dodge or climb a telegraph pole I'll give in that you are the bravest man I ever saw!"

"I—I'm afraid I haven't time to stop off," he stammered.

"I knew you wouldn't have," she dryly replied. "They never do. They talk about bombshells and dead men and slaughter pens, and they make out that they charged up to the roaring cannon; but the minute I talk wheelbarrow they knock. You needn't say no more. You've wilted."

And he had 'ut another word to utter.—N. Y. Sun.

A complete assortment of Goods has just been received by F. C. Baker.

Mr. J. B. Parker, of the H. B. Co., Battleford, arrived down from that burgh Tuesday evening. It is some four years since our old friend left here, but he evidently wears well, as he is looking as robust as when he left here. Mr. Parker will be the guest of his brother, Mr. T. E. Parker, of the east end, while here.

W. R. Fish, census commissioner for Saskatchewan, returned from Regina Saturday last. Mr. Fish is now awaiting final orders from Ottawa, when his staff of enumerators—of which he has made an excellent selection—will at once commence their duties. Mr. Fish is determined that the work shall be well and thoroughly done.

The following are registered at the Queen's:—D. Henderson, Prince Albert; D. Munson, F. Stearns, Winnipeg; Geo. H. Gibson, Battleford; D. Venn, Battoche; Col. Herchmer, Vet. Surgeon Burnett, S. D. McKen, C. Unwin, A. Elderkin, Regina; R. S. McKenzie, Duck Lake; J. M. Robertson, Moose Jaw; John Offord, Stratford.

DEATH OF REV. JOHN MCKAY.

It is our sad duty this week to chronicle the death of the Rev. John McKay, Presbyterian Missionary at Mistawasis reserve, which occurred at the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. B. Goodfellow, on Friday the 20th inst.

The deceased was born at Edmonton in the year 1831, and was a son of the late James McKay, whose name is historical in the annals of this country, and also a brother of the late Hon. James McKay of Silverheights, Manitoba.

He was one of the pioneer settlers of this district, coming here with the Rev. Nisbet in the year 1866, and labored amongst the Indians in this immediate vicinity until the year 1881, when he was appointed missionary at Mistawasis reserve, where, through his energetic actions, a neat church and fine manse have been erected. There he faithfully performed his duties until his recent illness compelled him to lay aside his task and come to Prince Albert for medical aid, but nature triumphed over science and on Friday last surrounded by his wife and children and a few friends he quietly passed away, leaving his widow and large family to mourn the loss of a kind husband and father. To his sorrowing family we extend the sympathy of this community.

By his death the Indian population lose a kind spiritual adviser, for being an able speaker in the Cree language, he was respected by all, and his loss will be greatly felt especially by those on the reserve, who have made such marked improvement and who have so greatly profited by his teachings. But the final summons has been issued by the great Unseen calling him to rest from his labors, and those who are left to mourn his loss can feel assured that he has nobly finished his long days work. He has lived out his kindly life with ever an encouraging word for the downtrodden wherever he met them, and who can doubt in this supreme hour of darkness, One whose love is infinite, stooping down from stary spheres has taken him by the hand and led him up the shining spaces to

"Summer, high in bliss upon the hills of God."
